

Stainless Steel O2 Sensor Bungs

Get the job done right the first time! Street Armor offers various O2 sensor bungs for any project. The high-grade stainless-steel construction provides a corrosion-resistant finish for durability and longevity! Available in a standard 1.0" outer wall thickness and a thicker 1.09" option for additional reinforcement. Also available with the traditional two-step saddle design for extra support and a wider surface area! All three units feature the universal M18 x 1.5 thread pitch. Perfect for any conventional hex plug, as seen below (part# SA107).
